Biographical Note:

Herbert Leon "Sonny" Callahan Jr. was born in Mobile, Alabama, on September 11, 1932. He is the eldest son of Herbert L. Callahan and Fannie Bell Fisher (both of Mobile). At the age of nine his father died, leaving his mother to raise the children alone. Callahan graduated from Mobile's McGill Institute in 1950. For a short time he pursued college courses at the University of Alabama-Mobile Campus (the predecessor to the University of South Alabama). As a high school student, he worked as a truck driver in his uncle's warehouse company, Finch Warehousing. After serving in the Navy during the Korean War from 1952 through 1954, Callahan returned home to Mobile and continued his employment with Finch. He rose to become president of the company at the age of thirty-two, and later chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Callahan later expanded his business interests to include real estate and insurance.

In 1970, at the age of thirty-eight, Callahan ran as a Democrat for the Alabama house seat serving Mobile County. He was reelected to the same seat in 1974 and served as the chairman of the Mobile County House Delegation. In 1978 Callahan ran (again as a Democrat) for and won election to the Alabama Senate seat representing district 34. He served in that body four years and then ran for Alabama lieutenant government against Bill Baxley, a campaign he lost. Callahan next set his sights on the U.S. House of Representatives. He competed (this time as a Republican) for and won the right to represent Alabama's First District on November 6, 1984, taking the place of retiring Congressman Jack Edwards. He began his freshman term on January 3, 1985.

Callahan went to Washington, D.C. as a reformer. His primary goal was to cut back on the growth of the federal bureaucracy. He continued to be interested in solving the twin problems of the national debt and the deficit, supporting a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution, and controlling federal spending. His first committee assignments included the Committee on Public Works and Transportation and the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. He also served on five subcommittees: Water Resources (Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure); Surface Transportation; Coast Guard and Navigation; Fisheries, Wildlife Conservation and the Environment; and Panama Canal/Outer Continental Shelf. During his career he has also served on the Energy and Water Development Subcommittee and the Transportation Subcommittee as well as the Military Construction Subcommittee. In 1995, with the Republican sweep of Congress and Newt Gingrich's "Contract with America," Callahan became chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Foreign Operations. As such, he became one of the thirteen "Cardinals" in the House, an honorary title bestowed on Appropriations Subcommittee chairmen, who are some of the most influential members of the House of Representatives. In addition, during his tenure in the House of Representatives, Sonny Callahan was a member of various congressional caucuses, including the Steel, Textile, Congressional Arts, Rural, Older Americans, and Sunbelt caucuses. He also co-chaired the Forestry 2000 Task Force and the Gulf of Mexico Task Force, and belonged to the Environmental and Energy Study Conference, the Travel and Tourism Conference, and the Rural Conference. Callahan retired in January 2003 after choosing not to seek reelection in 2002.

Callahan belongs to St. Dominic's Church in Mobile and is a member of the Mobile Chamber of Commerce, the Alabama Movers Association, the Alabama Trucking Association, the Downtown Mobile Kiwanis Club, the Boy Scouts of America, the Pleasant Valley Optimist Club (of Mobile, Alabama), and the Alabama Safety Council. Callahan is married to the former Karen Reed and is the father of six children, Scott, Patrick, Shawn, Chris, Cameron and Kelly.

Content List:

Series 1, Office Files (Boxes 1-235): Correspondence from constituents dealing with problems, ideas, or concerns regarding executive departments (i.e., the Social Security Administration or the Veterans Administration) and from Callahan or his staff to executive department personnel in relation to the constituent letters. Arrangement is based upon the number assigned by the congressman's office to particular executive departments or to an area of work within the congressman's office [1=military, 5=social security, 39=invitations accepted or rejected, etc.]. This series also contains political material, personal files related to Callahan, and files related to Alabama (the Alabama legislature, Alabama governor, Alabama constituents, Alabama problems, etc.) and to the running of Callahan's Mobile and Washington, D.C. offices, as well as sundry other issues. Interested parties should be sure to check this series for files related to their research. Please note that privacy issues may apply to information in these files.

Series 3, Memorabilia (Boxes 324-324a): An artificial series of documents found scattered throughout the Callahan Papers and containing photocopies of correspondence that Callahan collected during his congressional career. They consist of greeting cards received from various dignitaries, and letters from famous signators such as Bill Clinton, Ronald Reagan, and George Wallace. The correspondence is arranged chronologically. Also included in this series are invitations to presidential inaugurations, to ship christenings, to state dinners / lunches, and to presidential State of the Union addresses. An arrangement for this material has not been completed.

Series 4, Military (Boxes 325-333): Application files from constituents seeking entrance to U.S. military academies. RESTRICTED from the major papers and some of the smaller papers in Alabama. They cover stories related to Callahan, both professionally and personally, as well as stories about local, state, and national news and legislation. The clippings are grouped alphabetically by name of newspaper by year, although some of the larger papers are grouped by paper name by month by year. This series is made up of the following newspapers:

Series 5, Newsclippings (Boxes 334-348): Clippings gathered by a newsclippings service

Series 14, Appropriations (Boxes 428-438): Annual budgetary files, arranged by budget item or executive departments by year. Interested researchers should also look in the Legislative Files series for material related to appropriations. There are two subseries contained in this series: Grants and Energy and Commerce. Included in Grants are files related to federal grants for projects within Callahan's district. The Energy and Commerce subseries contains bound hearing materials and legislation related to the committee's jurisdiction.
